

WEBINAR:
Navigating your Academic Promotion and Career Path:
Process, Package and Passion

April 14 at 12:30pm ET

Register here

This webinar is organized by the OAIC National Coordinating Center Early Career Working Group and co-sponsored by the Clin-STAR Coordinating Center.

The goals of this webinar are to:

- Recognize overarching elements of the typical promotion process and gain roadmap for navigating the process specific to your institution and faculty track.
- Recognize the elements of your portfolio that are considered by persons providing evaluations; learn how to build a strong portfolio beginning years in advance, chart career with tracking progress; identify the constellation of your professional passions as a leading career guide.
- Understand the necessary materials needed for a successful promotions package and how to work with mentors to assemble the full package.

Speakers

Jennifer Brach PhD, PT (Clin-STAR representative)
Associate Dean for Faculty Affairs and Development, SHRS, and Professor, Dept. of Physical Therapy
University of Pittsburgh

Karen Bandeen-Roche, PhD
Hurley Dorrier Professor & Chair
Department of Biostatistics
Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health

Dalane W. Kitzman, MD
Kermit G. Phillips II Chair in Cardiovascular Medicine
Professor of Internal Medicine: Sections on Cardiovascular Medicine and Gerontology and Geriatric Medicine
Wake Forest University School of Medicine

Jeffrey A Linder, MD, MPH, FACP
Chief of General Internal Medicine in the Department of Medicine
Michael A. Gertz Professor of Medicine
Professor of Medicine (General Internal Medicine)
Northwestern University